About Conference:

The Covid-19 pandemic has spread with alarming speed, infecting millions and bringing economic activity to a near standstill as countries imposed tight restrictions on movement to halt the spread of the virus. As the health and human toll grows, the economic damage is already evident and represents the largest economic shock the world has experienced in decades. All the economic activities ranging from agriculture to service have seen a distressing dip causing the ever - highest decline in global gross domestic product (GDP). However, internet-based technology has emerged as a big support to continue with a large stream of activities during these testing times. Countries across the globe are facing multiple challenges with economies witnessing major sectoral shifts. Governments are working towards shuffling their budgetary planning to settle the upheaval in the economy. Numerous companies are forced to change their business models and management strategies to adopt internet-based mechanism for operations, while individuals are adopting new ways of planning their family budget and expenditure heads. There are paradigm shifts in the political, social and economic structures of the emerging nations. Further, global trade is witnessing new trends and patterns of exchange of goods and services. This world – wide novel circumstances are certainly impacting the economics, commerce, and management of pecuniary activities. This national Conference will provide a wider platform to academicians, researchers, industrialists, policy makers, and students to present and discuss their views and original research outcomes on various sectors and regions being affected by COVID-19. The thought-provoking insights in the conference will offer valuable signposts supporting the economic recovery.

About the Conference: Join us virtually on 14th August 2021 in NCICIE-2021.

DEPARTMENT OF SCIENCE
INTERNATIONAL E-CONFERENCE REPORT 2020-21
One-day International E-Conference on Innovative Research in Science and Technology" (ICIRST-2021) on 25th July 2021

In academic year 2020-21, the Department of Science (Chemistry, Physics, Mathematics, Botany and Zoology) has been organized a One-day International E-Conference on Innovative Research in Science and Technology" (ICIRST-2021) on dated 25th July 2021. It was good contact with research scholar and eminent personalities. The eminent research persons were invited for this conference. The main idea of the conference was highlighted and emphasizes the significance of Basic (viz. Physics, Chemistry, Biology, and Mathematics) and Applied Sciences. The core vision of the conference was to provide an excellent academic forum and interactive platform to researcher, scholars and students to present their recent research and share new ideas, experiences, practical challenges faced and the solutions implemented in all aspects concerning the field of basic sciences, applied sciences, engineering and technology. The broad aim of the conference was to groom the young scientists' minds to face the challenges of future for effective and efficient professional responsibilities. The conference intends to give a platform to Young Students, Faculties, Scientists and Industrial Professionals to share their research and findings, and also to build a stronger network in the direction of scientific advancement in post-COVID-19 era.
